

Graduate Education at South Dakota Mines
Kate Simmons Teskey Fellowship Application Form
Award for Academic Year 2024-2025

The Kate Simmons Teskey fellowship is awarded to a student who has demonstrated a high level of academic achievement as an undergraduate student. One recipient will be selected. The award for the academic year is $7,500 and will be split between the fall and spring semesters.

This fellowship requires a matching full-time assistantship from a department or faculty member. The award recipient must be a U.S. citizen beginning their graduate enrollment in the summer or fall 2024. Students who are currently enrolled in a graduate program at Mines are not eligible to apply. Mines undergraduate students who are completing their bachelor's degree in spring summer 2024 are eligible to apply.

Each program may submit one nomination (departments with an MS and PhD option are considered as one program). Applicants should be in good academic standing with exceptional qualities. Preference in nomination should be given to PhD students with financial need. Recipients must be enrolled FULL TIME during the award period due to the assistantship requirements (9 credits each for fall and spring semesters). The award may be renewed for a second year at the discretion of the program head/coordinator and the graduate dean.
